

Hello there little one,

Me, oh my, what a lovely tooth.
You're growing up—and this is proof!
You deserve a gift for your pearly white;
It's waiting for you in the morning light.

Brush and floss and brush again.
I'll be back, we'll meet soon friend.
When a tooth falls out once more,
Another gift you will surely score.

All my love,
The One and Only Tooth Fairy
